

Built in 2010 is this impressive, three bedroom detached home. The property is ideally located for Petts Wood mainline station, serving several London termini, as well as an array of well regarded schools including Bromley High, St James and Crofton Primary. The house was originally four bedrooms which has now been converted by the current owners to provide three well proportioned bedrooms.

The accommodation comprises hallway leading to study, cloakroom and lounge with bay window to front. The modern fitted kitchen benefits from quartz work tops and an array of Siemens appliances and leads to the conservatory with underfloor heating. The hallway, kitchen, conservatory and the patio area run front to back with Italian porcelain tiles, perfect for entertaining by combining inside and outside living.

To the first floor is the master bedroom with bespoke free standing wardrobe made specially to look fitted, bedroom two with ensuite shower room, the third bedroom and the family bathroom.

Internal viewing is essential and comes highly recommended.
